De Gaulle Plays Mystery Game

HOPES DIM FOR LOST U.S. SUB BUT BIG SEARCH CONTINUES

WASHINGTON (CP) — Planes and ships desperately searched a 2,100-mile stretch of the Atlantic today as hopes dimmed for the nuclear submarine Scorpion, missing since Monday afternoon.

"As every hour passes and we find nothing it looks more and more grim," a naval spokesman said.

Naval sources conceded privately there was no hope for the 99 officers and men aboard if Scorpion has gone down in the deep mid-Atlantic.

The only slim chance left is that the 3,075-ton craft was lying somewhere on the relatively shallow continental shelf stretching for up to 80 miles off the eastern seaboard.

He 'Disappears' For 6 Hours Amid Rumors Of Resignation

While President de Gaulle of France played a mysterious game in the French capital today, Paris buzzed with rumors that he was about to resign.

Government officials denied this, but the general's movements have been surrounded in mystery since he virtually dropped out of sight for six and a half hours. After he re-appeared, the general took off in a helicopter for his home at Colombey-les-Deux-Églises.

DE GAULLE ... mystery moves

After a departure from Paris, demonstrators in a massive march launched from the Place de la Bastille shouted for the 77-year-old president's resignation.

De Gaulle's departure for Colombey-les-Deux-Églises, about 120 miles east of Paris, took members of his own government by surprise.

A cabinet meeting was cancelled at the last minute—some ministers had already arrived at the Elysee Palace when they were given the news of the president's plans to leave Paris.

The general's aides would give no clue as to why he had left the capital in the midst of a strike crisis gripping the nation. But with little prospect of a peace settlement in sight there has been speculation of a dramatic new move by the president.

It was recalled that in January, 1946, de Gaulle retired abruptly for a few days meditation on the Mediterranean coast before announcing his resignation as head of the provisional government ruling France at that time.

The general's aides said today he was expected back in the capital Thursday to preside over the rearranged cabinet meeting.

Speculation in political circles on de Gaulle's course of action centred on two main possibilities, both unconfirmed.

1. That he might decide to announce his immediate retirement, without waiting to see how France votes in the referendum on social reform he has called for June 16.

2. That he might tell Premier Georges Pompidou to stake his government's life on a National Assembly vote in the near future on the assumption that the Gaullists would be beaten. A general election would then be called.

Kidnap Victim Found Alive And Police Hold 2 Suspects

VANCOUVER (CP) — Kidnap victim Mrs. Ernest L. Boulbee was found alive and well in bushland in South Vancouver late Tuesday night, some 17 hours after she had been abducted from her Vancouver home.

Police said Mrs. Boulbee, 53, was not hurt but may be suffering from exposure. She was found wearing only her nightclothes and was taken to hospital for a check.

Police arrested one suspect after a tracking dog located him in the area where Mrs. Boulbee was found and later another suspect at his home in Coquitlam after they traced a car seen in the wooded area.

Police said they were seeking a third man and possibly a girl. They were led to the kidnap victim by three young men who had gone to the wooded area to drink beer.

Mrs. Boulbee's wife, of wealthy realtor Ernest L. Boulbee, 75, was abducted from the $100,000 Boulbee home early Tuesday. Police said the Boulbees have been separated for five months.

Mrs. Boulbee was driven away in her own car which was found five miles from her home 12 hours later.

A $1,000,000 ransom note was left in her bedroom.

One of the youths said he and his two companions entered the bush area "to have a couple of beers" and later saw a strange car coming down the road.

The youth said he at first thought it was police and approached the driver of the vehicle, who told him he was waiting for a girl.

The trio then saw another man walking down a ditch. When the car turned around and left, they followed the ditch and saw the second man getting into another car.

The youths said they were aware of the kidnapping and left the wooded area and went to a nearby community centre to phone police.

When they returned to the area with police "we heard crackling in the bushes and the police went back to the car for the dogs and then we found the woman."

"She was in pretty bad shock,"

Police said the kidnappers forced a heavy locked back door at the Boulbee home and entered the woman's bedroom.

Mighty North Vietnam Attacks Hurled Back By U.S. Marines

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese troops battled Viet Cong holdouts today in Saigon as U.S. Marines reported hurling back two massive North Vietnamese assaults near Khe Sanh. The Marines said they killed 230 North Vietnamese.

"The war has intensified," said Gen. William C. Westmoreland, retiring U.S. commander in Vietnam.

After four days of hard fighting on the outskirts of Saigon, the South Vietnamese said they had wiped out the last Viet Cong pockets in Gia Dinh, on the northern side of the city, and retaken two-thirds of the Phu Lam residential area on the southwest side of the city.

In Phu Lam, four miles from downtown Saigon, government marines were advancing from the south while rangers pushed in from the north, trying to dig out a Viet Cong force strengthened by 100 or more reinforcements during the night.

U.S. gunship helicopters fired rockets into buildings from which snipers were laying down sharp barrages of small arms and rocket fire into street intersections.

South Vietnamese officers said one prisoner indicated that the infiltrators had taken heavy casualties, possibly up to 50 per cent in two days of clashes.

The government radio reported more than 100 Viet Cong killed in the last few days around Gia Dinh.

Along South Vietnam's northern frontier, fighting also continued for the fifth straight day. A U.S. spokesman said Southern allied forces have killed more than 3,000 North Vietnamese along the demilitarized zone since May 1, about one-third of them in the last four days.

OKANAGAN 'DESECRATED' Election Row Loses Votes

An election campaign just doesn't seem complete without posters, posters and more posters.

The Okanagan highway, south of Kelowna, has turned into an "election row," and the poster war appears in top gear, as it does in the last few weeks preceding any federal election.

But, this time at least two of the five candidates in Okanagan-Boundary hope to have the unsightly mess removed before the June 23 election date.

Social Credit hopeful, Dave Sparrow of Kelowna, more than a week ago flatly refused to become involved and will campaign without littering the highway with Scred posters.

Liberal candidate Bruce Howard said Tuesday he was disturbed by the desecration of the beauty of the lovely drive between Kelowna and Penticton by the display of ugly election posters "by all parties."

He said all parties share the blame, but the Liberals would be delighted to remove all Trudeau-Howard posters as quickly as possible.

"If the other parties will join us in this campaign to restore Okanagan beauty to its natural state, our workers will begin removing posters as soon as we learn other parties will cooperate."

Liberal officials said the offer was being made to the other four candidates: Mr. Sparrow, Progressive Conservative Dave Pugh, New Democrat Alex

POSTERS PADDLED

Turner, whose posters were among the first to appear, and independent Dr. John Coles of Penticton, a bit of a mystery candidate so far.

There is no sign of Coles' posters, at least not near Kelowna, and even his wife doesn't seem sure of his campaign plans.

He announced some time ago he would be an independent candidate, after losing the Social nomination to Mr. Sparrow.

Then his car, containing all his campaign material, was stolen and he dropped out of the contest.

His car was later located and he re-entered the fray.

Earlier this week his wife said she didn't know what part of the riding he was in and when he would be home.

Perhaps he was out nailing up another contribution to the poster collection.

McCarthy Has Upset

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Senator Eugene J. McCarthy has scored an Oregon upset to refuel his campaign for the White House, and Senator Robert F. Kennedy has conceded defeat in a Democratic presidential primary he once said he could not afford to lose.

The Democratic rivals turned today to California where they do primary battle again next Tuesday—and where the Oregon surprise is likely to echo.

KNOX MOUNTAIN PARK WELL TRODDEN

Knox Mountain Park in Kelowna was a popular spot Tuesday with bus loads of visitors. Grade 7 pupils from Burnaby mixed with wives of delegates to the Royal Canadian Legion 22nd biennial Dominion convention being held in Penticton this week.

The Kelowna Legion branch were hosts to the women for a luncheon and tour of the city. The pupils had their lunch on Knox Mountain and both groups enjoyed the view from the mountain park, the wild flowers and nature walks.

The 36 pupils arrived in Kelowna Sunday for a three-day visit as guests of the Raymer Elementary School Grade 7 class. They were shown points of interest in Kelowna and district. A group of 38 Raymer pupils will visit Burnaby June 2 to 5. (Courier photo)

Tale Of Two Ports Heard During C of C Convention

VICTORIA (CP)—The British Columbia Chamber of Commerce will urge government not to impede the Port of Vancouver or to undercut private enterprise in the development of the Roberts Bank port.

A resolution approved Tuesday by delegates to the chamber's annual convention said Vancouver is far from reaching its optimum capacity in handling cargo.

The resolution also stated that development of Roberts Bank should be based on sound economic principles.

Crown-owned bulk loading facilities at Roberts Bank would be "unfair competition" because they could compete with and undercut private operators because of government subsidies in construction or operation.

The convention, which ended Tuesday, also said the federal government should develop ports at Prince Rupert and Kitimat.

Other resolutions urged the B.C. government to appoint a council to aid in development of northern parts of the province, and called upon Ottawa to study its trade agreement with Australia because of what was termed unfair competition from imported Australian fruit.

The past president of the chamber, Howard T. Mitchell, criticized business leaders for giving in too easily on wage demands.

Labor leaders, he said, lately have been getting more than they expected in many settlements.

Posties Pick New President

MONTREAL (CP)—William Houle, 48, of Montreal, today was elected president of the 14,000-member Canadian Union of Postal Workers.

In voting on the last day of the union's 10th triennial convention he polled 269 votes to the 93 of Erick (Rick) Otto of Ottawa, the incumbent executive vice-president and director of organization.

Mr. Houle leaves his presidency of the militant 3,600-member Montreal local to move to Ottawa. His salary will jump to $13,000 from $9,200 a year.

The changeover takes place at a critical stage in contract negotiations.

Talks between the government and the union council formed by the CUWP and the 10,000-member Letter Carriers Union of Canada broke down April 25.

A union-asked conciliation board is being formed and the government also has appointed a mediator—Judge Rene Lippe.

Housing For Old People 'Reaches Crisis' Legion Told

PENTICTON, B.C. (CP)—Housing for old people in Canada has reached the crisis point, a Royal Canadian Legion official told the Legion convention Tuesday.

Arthur H. Adams, chairman of the Committee on Aging Veterans, said that the worst hit are senior citizens in a fixed income bracket.

"Having no method of supplementation, they find their standards of living rapidly deteriorating by reason of the present economic situation," he said.

The Legion now has 32 projects to house old people, whether they are veterans or not, in six provinces. These provide 862 living units at the lowest possible cost, Mr. Adams said in his biennial report.

The convention gave unanimous support to several resolutions proposed by the committee, including a request to the federal government to drop the tax on materials used by non-profit organizations to build old peoples homes.

The convention also agreed to seek a government capital grant of $500 for each unit, and a freeze on Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation loan interest rates at five per cent.

Earlier, the convention was told the annual poppy campaign last year raised a record $1,493,543. Of this, $758,123 was made available for welfare work.

APPROVE RESOLUTIONS

Delegates also waded through a large number of resolutions, approving most without debate.

The convention was unanimous in calling on the government to take all measures to adequately defend Canada and meet obligations of NATO and NORAD. If necessary, the resolution added, this should include compulsory national military service.

Jaycees Seek Annual Parley

A large delegation of Kelowna and District Junior Chamber of Commerce members are attending the provincial Jaycee convention in Kamloops, which started today and continues to Sunday.

At the convention a strong bid will be made to bring the 1969 provincial convention to Kelowna. The provincial convention was last held here in 1957.

Assisting the Jaycees in their bid for the convention, which would bring 500 to 600 delegates, are the chamber's visitor and convention bureau, and the Kelowna city council.

Mayor R. F. Parkinson has sent a telegram saying the city heartily endorses the bid for the 1969 convention and assuring delegates Kelowna will roll out the welcome mat should the bid be successful.

Kelowna Jaycees delegates will present a resolution at the Kamloops convention urging that the provincial Pollution Control Board amend its title to "the provincial Clean Air and Water Control Board."

The resolution, if passed, is to be presented to the provincial cabinet and is based on the adverse effect on the tourist trade of the word "pollution."

Joachim Holtz was inducted as a member of the Kelowna and District Jaycees at the last general meeting. Mr. Holtz was appointed parade marshal for the 62nd Kelowna International Regatta parade, to be held Aug. 17.

Bid Made Five Years Ago Brings Fire Chiefs To City

Some 500 to 600 people, including 300 fire chiefs, are expected to attend the 60th annual conference of the Canadian Association of Fire Chiefs in Kelowna, Sept. 6 to 12.

A seminar will start Sept. 6, with experts speaking to fire chiefs on various aspects of their work. The actual conference starts Sept. 9.

Fire Chief Charles Pettman is the conference chairman and Victor Haddad, representing volunteer firemen, is co-chairman.

Business sessions will be held in the Community Theatre and banquets and dances in the Memorial Arena. A manufacturers' display of equipment will line arena walls.

The conference, attracting representatives from coast to coast, comes here as a result of a bid made by the fire chief at a meeting in Winnipeg five years ago.

Arrangements are being made to have Forest Service water bombers (Avengers) give a demonstration of firefighting sometime during the conference.

The program is being drawn up by managing director J. L. Arnott of Toronto, who is expected to visit Kelowna in May or June, to check details.

Social events and meeting arrangements are being planned by the local committee.

Tentative plans call for a provincial banquet, Sept. 9, with a representative of the B.C. government as speaker. Tuesday will be a fun night, with perhaps a Klondike theme and Wednesday is the civic banquet, with speakers to be announced. The convention closes at noon Thursday.

City's Sunnyvale Workshop Losing Veteran Instructor

Mrs. P. M. Trenwith is retiring as an instructor at the Sunnyvale Workshop after 14 years service.

The announcement was made by board chairman E. H. Cotten. Meanwhile, a seminar was held in the activity room of the Sunnyvale workshop on May 22 and 23 for the siblings of young adults receiving training at the school and workshop.

A dinner was given for 18 brothers and sisters, between the ages of 12 and 20, by the board. Mrs. T. F. McWilliams, chairman of the home care committee, welcomed the young people. Dr. Frank McNair, moderator of the seminar, gave an introduction to the film shown, The Long Childhood of Timmy, pointing out similarities, such as difficulty in expressing ideas, which young people would notice between Timmy and their own brother or sister. The film described the childhood of a young boy who eventually received training at a boarding school, as no school was available in his area.

After the film, groups were formed, and discussions held. Group leaders were Mrs. Wayne Hill, Larry Delanno and Dr. McNair.

The next evening parents of the trainees and board members were invited to see the film. Refreshments and a discussion period followed.

Sentence Suspended For Fight

A Westbank man was given a 12-month suspended sentence in magistrate's court today, on a charge of causing a disturbance by fighting.

Michael Werstulsk attempted to defend himself during his trial. The offence took place May 18 at 1:30 p.m. on the Westside Road, Westbank.

Two RCMP constables testified they saw the accused exchanging blows with another man. Werstulsk said he didn't want the fight that the man "came at him" with a stick.

His witnesses were his mother-in-law, Mrs. Charlotte Pierre, who said she didn't see the fight, only heard the noise, and his sister-in-law, Margaret Pierre, who said the other man involved, Douglas George, "started to club Werstulsk with a stick."

Karen Plotz, Kelowna, was charged with assaulting another woman by striking her on the face with her hand. The case was remanded to June 5 and will be heard in family court.

Elmer Dyck, who previously pleaded guilty to driving a car with 1966 plates and the theft of hub caps, was further remanded to Monday, pending a report from the probation officer. The magistrate said he may be eligible for a suspended sentence.

AUSTRALIAN FRUIT

Import Problems Bring More Talks

The two top executives of the B.C. tree fruit industry will meet with representatives from other Canadian fruit producing areas and senior government officials next week, to further their campaign to have government support to help combat the effects on the Canadian tender fruit industry, of imported Australian canned fruits.

Alan Claridge, of Oyama, president of the British Columbia Fruit Growers' Association, and W. O. June of Naramata, president of B.C. Tree Fruits Limited, will meet with representatives from the Ontario fruit producers group Monday and then a combined representation will meet with senior government officials Tuesday.

"We are strongly disappointed with the reaction to date to our several approaches to government officials and elected parliamentary representatives. A comprehensive brief outlining our position was submitted last October by Canada's soft fruit producers and processors," said Mr. Claridge.

"A copy of this brief was given to every sitting member of the Commons and we had subsequent meetings with cabinet ministers and senior government officials. As a follow up, because of an apparent lethargic attitude on the part of government, subsequent wires were sent March 20 of this year," he said.

Mr. Claridge said replies received from ministers concerned, including Agriculture Minister J. J. Greene, "were somewhat negative and most disappointing to us."

"It is imperative we receive a firm, favorable commitment from the government on this, because not only is the welfare of the industries concerned at stake, but it could adversely affect other segments of Canada's economy," said Mr. Claridge.

In conclusion, he referred to the telegram which was forwarded to Agriculture Minister

Greene April 19, which read: "B.C. fruit industry shocked and disillusioned at report of inter-departmental committee on peach, pear and apricot (processing) industry brief and rejects both their conclusions and the stated order of importance of the problems involved. Throughout the brief, and reflecting in all related reports parliamentary discussions etc. Australian trade practices have been identified as our primary concern."

"Committee proposal for duty remission is not answer to industry problems actually is detrimental thereto and was rejected during 1968 meeting Canadian Horticultural Council."

"View committees attitude and lack of action to date re Australian practices marketing of 1968 cannery peaches jeopardized."

"Accordingly we will ask Canadian Horticultural Council to pursue this entire matter with your department on urgent basis."

Mr. Claridge said the Okanagan - Similkameen Associated Chambers of Commerce had also taken a firm stand in support of the industry's plea and have written to many government cabinet ministers. "We have also received strong labor union support," he said.

McKinley On JM Executive

Garfield McKinley, music superior of School District 23 (Kelowna), was elected one of three provincial Jeunesses Musicales vice-presidents Sunday.

Mr. McKinley is regional director of the Okanagan JM branch.

Rev. Francis Godderis, president of the Kelowna JM branch, said next year the provincial organization will supply tapes and musical scores of concerts to schools.

This was decided during the annual provincial meeting here Sunday.

"This is quite significant," said Father Godderis.

"This will promote appreciation and use in music courses," he said. "Tapes and scores will be provided whether or not the school takes advantage of the JM program."

"This, however, would be a natural follow-up," he said.

A good adult attendance will encourage leaders, who volunteer their time and efforts for youths, Mr. Colk says.

The event will be held rain or shine and cubs are to assemble at 1 p.m.

VALLEY SCENE

The City of Kelowna work crews are painting lamp standards with a fresh coat of green paint this week and also re-painting the white lines on angle parking slots on downtown streets. The white paint is being painted over the sand lying in gutters so that, in some cases, a shovel could remove the last foot or two of the parking line.

A runaway turtle was found during the weekend by Courier carrier boy John Salonen at the corner of Bernard and Richter. The turtle belonged to a boy who lived on Dilworth Crescent and the bottom of its shell was scraped from the long walk. The turtle was six inches across.

Ken Cooper, vice-president of Associated Commercial Travelers of Kelowna, was moved into the president's chair at the regular May meeting. Ken will continue as president for the rest of the year, as the elected president, Doug May, has moved to Vancouver.

Work Delayed On New Boat

A boat "too beautiful to put in water" will have to wait a little longer before being used in Okanagan Lake.

Mik Bate says work on his new limited hydroplane has halted because of a back injury to the boat builder.

"There is about a week and a half of work left," he said, "with just the motor building and installation left to go."

Jim Hutchison of Vancouver is building the boat. "I saw her before painting," said Mr. Bate, "and she was beautiful. Now seven coats of paint are on it. I have been told she looks too beautiful to be put in water."

Mr. Bate said many innovations have been built into the boat, including aircraft-type steering. The hull looks the same on the top, but underneath it's different, he said.

The boat will be powered by 145 cubic inch Ford Falcon motor.

Foreign Investment Topic At Weekly Rotary Luncheon

Gerry Young, junior chamber of commerce representative for the Okanagan public speaking contest being held today in Kamloops was guest speaker at the weekly luncheon meeting of Kelowna Rotary Tuesday.

Mr. Young, speaking on foreign investment, said growth of non-resident control of industry in this country has doubled since 1923, from 17 per cent to 34 per cent.

"We are faced with two major problems. We don't even know how we stand as to the future because our government will not insist on public disclosure of foreign investment, and, we are losing more and more control of our economy through our leading corporations, which are actually subsidiaries of foreign corporations, mostly in the United States," he said.

"Don't let's misunderstand the picture," he said, "foreign investment is important if not vital to our economy, otherwise we couldn't develop our natural resources. But where is our control? Where will we end up if we keep playing hide and seek with our investors, who expect a straight policy, just as we do?"

"In England the situation is under much better control. For example when the Ford Motor Company acquired all the stock of its subsidiary from British investors in 1963 it had to give some definite assurances before 'approval'."

"He said one assurance was a plowing back of a high percentage of profits, another was to continue buying a major proportion of component parts in Britain and to maintain a high percentage of export. In that way the government had assurance this outside investment would support the home economy."

He said France had the same policy and all foreign investments need approval of the minister of finance.

"These are the problems," he said, "let's hope our government will give due consideration to the recommendations of the Walker report."

"We can play our part also if we invest our own savings in our own country. Government policies alone cannot assure success of our Canadian enterprises without the confidence and initiative of our own citizens."

SUNNY with a few cloudy periods is the forecast for the Okanagan Thursday.

Isolated showers in the afternoon and evening, with little change in temperature. Low to night and high Thursday should be 42 and 72. Light winds are predicted.

The low and high recorded in Kelowna Tuesday were 41 and 72, compared with 51 and 67 and 27 inches of rain on the same date a year ago.

With Bob Bonner Gone Who Is Heir-Apparent?

The resignation of the Hon. Robert Bonner from the British Columbia cabinet caught most people completely off base. And yet, given time to assess it, it does not seem unreasonable at all.

Mr. Bonner is in his late forties. It does not seem unreasonable that after 16 years in the public service he should decide it was time he began to look after himself and his family. He has only a few years left to do this. Coupled with this is probably the realization that his hoped-for objective is not as close in time as he would wish—succeeding Mr. Bennett as premier of the province. It is not unreasonable to speculate that Mr. Bonner would not have resigned his cabinet post unless he were quite sure that his leader had no intention of quitting in the near future. It can be assumed that Mr. Bonner came to the conclusion that he would have to wait several more years before obtaining the leadership post, if ever.

Mr. Bonner has widely been considered the logical choice to succeed Mr. Bennett. Others—Peterson and Williston—have also been mentioned, but to most people Mr. Bonner seemed the logical selection.

It is being inferred that Mr. Bonner had become disillusioned and had decided he wanted out of the B.C. cabinet. It is said that he and his colleagues had clashed over the Gagliardi affair. This may be a contributing cause.

At any rate, he is leaving the cabinet. He was the youngest attorney-general in the Commonwealth when he was appointed sixteen years ago. He has never really won the affection of the people of British Columbia, but he has been recognized as one of the few strong men in the cabinet. On the whole he has made a rather excellent attorney-general.

It is a rather strange fact that most of the major troubles the government has gotten itself into have had some legal aspect somewhere: the Somers case, the B.C. power expropriation, the Gagliardi contempt of court case, the Dees Island Tunnel expropriation case and others. It is difficult to know whether the government has been given poor legal advice or whether Mr. Bonner, in his position of attorney-general, had to take what means he could to get the government out of a mess it was already in. Perhaps the scales should be tipped in Mr. Bonner's favor.

The reorganization of the B.C. cabinet as announced by the premier on Monday was not one to inspire confidence. The departure of Mr. Bonner has definitely weakened the government.

The cabinet shuffle does not seem to have brought more strength to any of the affected portfolios. Certainly Mr. Shelford as minister of agriculture will not inspire any great enthusiasm among the farmers and ranchers. Nor, we imagine, will the educationists be enthusiastic about the switch of Hon. Donald Brothers from mines to education. And there were no hurrahs when Mr. Skilling was made minister of trade and industry.

It has been said that the departure of Mr. Bonner opens the way for the reinstatement of Mr. Gagliardi to a definite ministry. Some have even suggested he will be officially back in the highways portfolio very soon. This may be but this newspaper just cannot see the premier making such a political blunder. True, Mr. Gagliardi was a good highways minister, but to return him to that portfolio in the near future would be a near-disaster; certainly it would shake the confidence of the people of British Columbia and would lay the government open to all sorts of attacks, all of them damaging.

With Messrs. Bonner and Gagliardi (in effect) gone, the cabinet has a new look. It has lost its two most colorful figures and, as a result, has assumed a grey tint.

The situation also prompts a new question: Now, with Bonner gone, who takes over the role of heir-designate to the premier? There are left Messrs. Williston and Peterson, both of whom have been speculated about, and Mr. Kiernan, a little-known figure to the public, but one who has quietly made a name for himself as a good administrator. But, then, apparently there are a few years yet to speculate along that line.

Tinned Froth Costs More

The beer drinking population of British Columbia will be excused if it finds somewhat confusing the arguments surrounding a 10-cents-a-dozen increase in the price of the beverage when canned.

The owner of a brewery which puts up its beer in tins objected to the price increase, arguing that, since it is to become more expensive than the bottled varieties, the market would be closed to it. The Attorney-General said that "long-standing policy" was being observed, fixing the same price for "like products."

Up to the time of Mr. Bonner's statement, only one brewery provided B.C. canned beer. Now all coast breweries have their products in tins as well as bottles and a spokesman for four of the major producers says the increase is needed to meet higher costs. The low-price producer seems out of court. Prices, it appears, rise inevitably, like froth in the glass.

Actually can beer is 35 cents higher than bottle beer. There is no 25-cent refund on empties.

THE BOOMERANG

Her Business Not Booming But It Bleats, Barks, Chirps

MILL BAY, B.C. (CP) — If business isn't booming, it's at least bleating and barking, neighing and meowing. Occasionally it even chirps.

"We've got cats, dogs, goats, horses and often birds," says Mother Mary Cecilia, who with four other Roman Catholic nuns operates the Good Shepherd Animal Shelter near this small Vancouver Island community 20 miles north of Victoria.

"We'll take anything in trouble," says Mother Cecilia, now 79 and who for 40 years was mother superior of St. Mary's Priory.

"God created animals as well as human beings," she says. "Like us, they are God's children and we should care for them as such."

Besides the five nuns, members of the Sisters of the Love of Jesus, an order founded by Mother Cecilia some 40 years ago in the Anglican church and which she led to Roman Catholicism in 1937, there now are six paid workers and one volunteer at the shelter on its 60-acre site overlooking the Gulf of Georgia.

Now in its seventh year, the shelter cares for an average of between 250 and 300 animals.

"We've grown and grown and grown," says Mother Cecilia. "Of course we shall always have financial trouble in this work. We can't carry on on less than $2,500 a month."

The animals eat about $1,200 worth of food each month. The shelter, started by Mother Cecilia on a legacy left to her by her father, now is largely kept up through donations and hard work.

"We've put up three new buildings," says Mother Cecilia. "We've got about 11 buildings now besides two houses and one cottage."

"We have quite a wide circle of friends and it keeps getting wider all the time. A lady from Australia yesterday sent us a letter with a cheque for $120. She said eight others in Australia she knows left us something in their will. A lady died in White Rock and left us $5,000."

"Some day we'll have enough to live on."

The shelter activities themselves help with some of the financing. The sisters operate two thrift shops and are opening a book store. The shelter magazine, The Shepherd's Crook, published four times a year, is sent to 2,000 subscribers in England, Germany, Australia, the United States and Canada.

The sisters have also published their first book, Short Stories from the Shepherd's Crook, and two more books are on the way.

Visitors to the shelter are asked to sign petitions against experiments conducted on mares in foal and vivisection. These themes and man's general inhumanity to animals dominate the publications.

TRUCE WITH CHURCH

Also helping out are the sisters' church allowances totaling $500 a month. The allowances were reinstated about 18 months ago after being suspended in 1965 when the nuns ignored a church order to close their shelter and return to the priory. The dispute flared for about two years, with appeals to the Vatican.

"The bishop says he's called a truce," says Mother Cecilia. "I don't exactly know what a truce is."

A spokesman at the Victoria chancellery of Bishop Remi De Roo says the church still hopes the sisters will return to the normal life of a nun.

LETTER TO EDITOR

SINGAPORE SWITCH

Sir: After my recent visit to the Australian continent, I have these comments to make.

There is one commitment Great Britain should undertake in the Far East and that is to transfer her naval base from Singapore to Darwin, this would also include an air base. Singapore should be compensated for whatever income loss this may incur.

I do not think there is any danger of China or any other country trying to infiltrate the Australian continent. China is going to have to concentrate all her initiative and man power in building up her economy to achieve her basic aim, a standard of living comparable to the western world.

However I do appreciate the natural apprehension of Australians with their vast country so isolated from the west.

As part of the Commonwealth and as a part that in two world wars came to the assistance of the motherland, I think it is the duty of Great Britain to make this move.

The cost would be shared by New Zealand, Australia, Great Britain, and I think, Canada should participate, and part might be paid by cutting down on NATO commitments and in the case of Canada, also on NORAD commitments.

India and Pakistan might wish to help but they are hardly in a financial position to do so.

It should be entirely a Commonwealth undertaking.

In Canada, we must not forget that after the fall of France, it was the Commonwealth that stood alone in the world against that madman Hitler who had 5,000,000 people killed in concentration camps and who desired to rule the world. The Commonwealth still has a world influence, in spite of setbacks and troubles here and there, that may be of great value, even a deciding factor in the destiny of the universe.

To follow the course of justice come hell or high water, is the only solution to the problems the world faces today.

Yours truly,
CECIL R. BULL,

BIBLE BRIEF

OUR ECONOMY

Strange 'Bird' Not Flying Yet

By WARREN BALDWIN

OTTAWA — In March the Pearson government announced plans to set up a board or agency charged with the task of keeping production, wages and prices in line. The opposition dubbed it immediately a "toothless albatross" but whatever type of bird or mammal was conceived it has yet to be delivered through Prime Minister Trudeau's said this is on the priority list.

There may be no time to waste. There are signs that the need for education of Canada's workers along this line may be not only essential but urgent. It is understandable that Canadian labor unions should be pressing for wage parity with American workers. But recently the spearhead of the parity drive has been the big brother of the Canadian labor movement in the United States.

An American economist speaking recently in Canada estimated that American unions are spending 25 cents of every available dollar to promote wage parity for foreign unions. And Canada is the chief target. The motive behind this generosity may not be all altruism.

OUTPACING THE U.S.A.

Recently Canadians have been seeing evidence of a relatively greater improvement in their economy than that south of the border. With the U.S. dollar under strong pressure still, the Canadian dollar has been strengthening since mid-March. In the last two weeks it has held a level well above the parity point of $2.5 U.S. cents.

Accompanying this has been a build up in Canada's official reserves of U.S. dollars that has been embarrassingly costly to the federal government. When the stock of U.S. dollars is used in purchasing Canadian dollars to support the exchange rate as it was earlier in the year, those Canadian dollars go into the federal treasury. When the stock is being built up as it has been in the last two months the Exchange Fund must be supplied by the treasury with the Canadian equivalent. Largely as a result of this cash available in the federal government's bank accounts dropped from $1,319 million on March 20 to $356 million last week.

CANADA'S STORY

Empress Of Ireland Sank In St. Lawrence

By BOB BOWMAN

In the early part of the century the Calgary Eye-Opener was a newspaper that was sometimes as shocking as Playboy is today, although its shock treatments were along somewhat different lines. The Eye-Opener naughty jokes would probably seem tame today, but when the paper appeared, it's publication dates were uncertain. It had a ready sale across Canada and in some other parts of the world. Its editor, Bob Edwards, was one of the most colorful Canadians of all time.

Early in his career, Bob Edwards took great delight in attacking the CPR monopoly, and the railway banned his paper from being sold in its trains. Edwards hit back by publishing pictures of CPR incidents whenever possible. On one occasion he published a picture of CPR solicitor R. B. Bennett (who later became prime minister) with a caption "Another CPR Wreck". The feud subsided when the railway lifted the ban on his papers.

There was a CPR wreck on May 29, 1914, that was no joke. It was the worst sea disaster in Canadian history because 1,012 lives were lost when the CPR steamship Empress of Ireland sank in the St. Lawrence after colliding with the Norwegian freighter Storstad.

The Empress had sailed from Quebec City and dropped its pilot at Father Point when the crash came. Young Captain H. G. Kendall had been in command of the ship only four weeks, was on the bridge and saw the masthead lights of the freighter about six miles ahead. It had left Sydney, N.S. with 10,800 tons of coal and was bound for Montreal. Suddenly a bank of fog rolled out from the shore completely hiding the ships from each other. Of

The drain on the treasury for this purpose, however, shows that the foreign investor recognizes the basic soundness of the Canadian economy, in this case better perhaps than Canadians because a part of the drain has been caused by an unprecedented cashing of Canada Savings Bonds.

In any event the confidence is obviously justified. Canada's exports in April were 31 per cent higher than April 1967. To the United States alone they were 42 per cent higher.

Too great a success story can be read into figures like these but the fact is that in recent months Canada's industries have quite substantially improved their competitive position with those of the United States. Prices in the United States have been rising at a rate of four to 4½ per cent. In Canada they may not rise more than three per cent this year compared with 4½ per cent last year.

There have been at least two reasons for this difference. To a greater extent than Americans, Canadian companies have sacrificed profit margins to absorb some of the impact of rising prices. It may be time that the investor is given a break. Excessive wage settlements that pushed prices up in Canada at an earlier stage are now dogging the footsteps of Americans.

SPREAD TO CANADA

It is obviously too early for Canadians to throw their hats in the air. American wage settlements will inevitably spur Canadian unions to prevent any widening of the margin between the two countries. There will be a new wave of demands for wage increases.

But the Americans may need more than restoration of the margin. U.S. union leaders, it is reported, are very conscious of the fact that they are pricing themselves out of the market. They can't convince the union membership of the danger. An alternative of course would be to make sure that the rank and file of workers in Canada proves to be equally untractable. And what better way of doing this than a campaign to promote wage parity across the border?

course there was no radar in those days.

The Storstad hit the Empress amidships, tearing the hull for 20 feet. Tons of water poured into the liner's boiler rooms. The ship listed heavily to starboard and sank in a few minutes. As most of the passengers were asleep few of them were able to escape, and only four lifeboats were launched. The death toll was 840 passengers and 172 crew.

A commission of inquiry placed the blame on the first officer of the Norwegian ship because he changed course in the fog.

SMARTLY ON THE GO

By TRACY ADRIAN

With travelling, nationally and internationally, on the increase and very much in the news, the focus is, of course, on good serviceable leather luggage and handbags. So, for a weekend safari, our traveller here selected two "Wings" pieces in a winish red tone: a 21" case in a top grain cowhide leather and a tote in a grained and smooth leather combination. And since la femme always needs a good size travel purse, she chose one with double outside buckled pockets and buckled belt trim in a soft glovy American leather. Her belt by St. Laurent for Colony is in keeping with the current mode. Six inches in width of American suede leather, it can double in brass in a number of ways with sports separates. The exciting two-piece Italian wool knit on the right by Gino Paoli is an excellent example of the type of fashion that will vacation or travel anywhere without fuss. The smart, body skimming overblouse is accented with two pockets and a tri-cornered scarf in white, red and royal colors to match the striped bands on the swinging pleated skirt.

Guys And Dolls Fashions At Kelowna Secondary School

The cafeteria of the Kelowna Senior Secondary School on Thursday afternoon made a delightful setting for the school's annual fashion show when once again the senior students presented the fashions they had created in their Home Economics classes over the year.

The title of their show was "Guys and Dolls," and following a few words of welcome by School Principal L. Dedinsky, one of the fashion co-ordinators, Donna Schellenberg, introduced the two commentators for the show, Susan Cowie and Janet Sewell.

Over one hundred lovely models participated, and, to the piano accompaniment of Cynthia Taylor and Marg Grapentin, they modelled costumes ranging from sportswear and casual cottons to dress for more formal occasions. Suits and coats with matching hats were featured too, and also some lovely floor-length evening gowns.

An added attraction this year was the addition of six male models who showed most effectively what is happening in the masculine world of fashion today.

During a brief intermission, delicious refreshments were served while Marlene Tremblay, accompanied by Sharon James on the piano, entertained the audience with two vocal solos.

Another musical interlude featured Pam Sprinkling playing the guitar and singing three beautiful folk songs, and Brian McKinnon, accompanied by John Samuelson on the guitar, also sang two songs.

The most enjoyable afternoon came to a close with fashion co-ordinator, Christine Cameron, thanking the audience for attending, and presenting Grade XII Home Economics teacher, Mrs. R. C. Dillabough, with a beautiful bouquet of spring flowers as a token of the students' appreciation for all her help in organizing the show.

Donna Schellenberg, too, presented Mrs. Dillabough with a gift which was from all the Grade XII girls as their "thank you" for all the patience and help she had given them over the year.

Congratulations go to all who helped make this year's show such a delightful and well-organized affair.

Two Engagements Are Announced

RAMPONE-STOTZ

Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Rampone of Kelowna are pleased to announce the engagement of their only daughter, Deborah Anne, to Egon Stotz, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Stotz of Kelowna.

The wedding will take place July 6, 4:00 p.m. at St. Paul's United Church of Kelowna with Reverend F. H. Gough officiating.

WAGNER-AMES

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Wagner announce the engagement of their youngest daughter, Joyce Charlotte, to Clifford Ronald Ames son of Mr. and Mrs. Melburn Ames of Richmond.

The wedding will take place July 6 in St. Paul's Church, Kelowna.

Interesting Trip Through The U.S.

Mrs. Percy Rankin of Kelowna accompanied by two friends from Oliver, Mrs. Lawrence Lundy and Mrs. George Elliott, has returned after a very enjoyable sight seeing tour from points of interest at the Canadian border and into the United States. At Salmo they saw the caves below Newlay and Metairie falls, then drove on to Spokane, and when in Boise, Idaho, en route to Pocatello they saw a glass blowing demonstration in the Idaho ghost town.

They visited the Thousand Springs, a part of Snake River, the Flaming Gorge in south western Wyoming, and Utah; as well as the Steamboat Springs in Colorado, but due to the snow in the mountain they were unable to see Rabbit Ears Pass.

Motoring on to Denver they saw the Valley of the Gods, and Will Rogers Shrine, as well as the Santa Claus pole at Colorado Springs. The trio then toured the world famous Van Briggle Pottery Studio, which has received the world's highest awards and is situated in the shadow of Pikes Peak in Colorado Springs.

On the way home they saw the results of the 1959 earth quake in Virginia City, Montana, Cheyenne and Yellowstone Park where antelopes abound, and they completed their trip through Cour d'Alene and Sherman Pass.

CWL Installation Held In Rutland

The annual Membership and Friendship Tea of St. Theresa's CWL Council took place on May 27 at the parish hall in Rutland.

A most delightful afternoon was enjoyed by members and friends. Mrs. Al Schormann and Mrs. John Zvonarich pleasantly surprised the gathering with a well acted skit written by themselves.

The afternoon came to a close with the impressive candle lighting ceremony of the installation of the new executive: president, Miss Marie Gruber; first vice-president, Mrs. Peter Schneider; second vice-president, Mrs. Nick Heemskerck; third vice-president, Mrs. David Vander Gulik; secretary, Mrs. John Zvonarich; treasurer, Mrs. Henry Falck.

Whyte-Snowsell Ceremony Held In West Vancouver

Miss Jane Snowsell and Don Whyte repeated their vows of holy matrimony, May 18 at 6:30 p.m. in the West Vancouver United Church with Rev. T. T. Oliver officiating.

The sun shone through the stained glass windows on the bride as she entered the church on the arm of her father, Frank Snowsell of West Vancouver. Her gown of imported ligoda was appliqued with Chantilly lace with removable train ensemble sweeping gracefully from the neckline.

She carried an arrangement of white and shrimp gladioli. A short pouffe veil misted around her face, was held in place by a lily of the valley and encrusted flower headress. Her only ornament was a diamond and pearl drop, the gift of the groom.

Jane's four attendants were her sister, Mrs. Lynne Schroeder; her sisters-in-law, Mrs. Sharon Bettsworth and Mrs. Myrtle Snowsell; and her former classmate, Mrs. Jerry Clark. The attendants were gown in full length shrimp satin back crepe with helmine trains, and headpieces of rosebuds and net en tone. Each carried an arrangement of white spider mums.

The groom was attended by his brother-in-law, Dave Bettsworth, and the ushers were Allen Snowsell, brother of the bride, Jim Holt and Morris Boisse.

Archie Reid, cousin of the bride, sang "O Perfect Love" accompanied by John Fearing at the organ.

The reception at the Glen Eagles Club House was attended by 150 guests and the happy couple cut a four-tiered cake, beautifully decorated by Mr. Whyte, father of the groom.

Peter Vet, cousin of the groom, was master of ceremonies. Mrs. Rita Harvey, Hanna Alta, Jane's aunt, asked the blessing. The toast to the bride was proposed by Jack Snowsell of Kelowna, uncle of the bride.

To travel on their honeymoon in California the bride changed into a shocking pink dress and coat ensemble with a white leg-horn hat and black patent accessories. She wore a white rosebud with stephanotis corsage.

Out of town guests included relatives and friends from Alberta, Saskatchewan, Victoria and many interior points. Absent friends sent many telegrams and messages including an original poem by the bride's uncle in Detroit.

The bride's mother was gown in turquoise chiffon with pink rosebud corsage. The mother of the groom wore lilac with a matching orchid corsage.

Enclosure Dress To Be Less Formal

LONDON (AP) — The Duke of Norfolk threw a welcome bombshell into British society today, announcing that for the first time gentlemen in business suits can hobnob with the Queen at the Royal Ascot races.

"Dress for gentlemen in the Royal Ascot enclosure will be morning dress, uniform or lounge business suits," said a notice sent by the duke, the Queen's representative at Ascot, to those invited to the royal section of the race course.

Since 1952, when post-war clothes rationing ended, only men in formal morning clothes and grey toppers or in military uniform had been admitted to the royal enclosure, one of Britain's most socially desirable locations.

"It was felt that the time had come to bring procedure into line with the Buckingham Palace garden parties," said an Ascot official.

ANN LANDERS

Bride Shouldn't Share Spotlight With Anyone

Dear Ann Landers: My fiance and I have been planning our wedding for several months. We wanted it to be in June but my mother persuaded us to wait until July and be married — on her 25th wedding anniversary. It sounded like a good idea at the time, but now I'm not so sure.

Last week my mother announced that she has tried on her wedding gown and it still fits perfectly. She wants to wear the gown to my wedding and make it a double ceremony, with her and Dad repeating the vows.

I didn't know what to make of it, but Mother assured me that many couples "remarry" for sentimental reasons and she thinks it would be a truly moving experience for us all. Dad was not very pleased but usually he goes along with what Mom wants.

My fiance doesn't like the idea and has said so. When I told Mother she accused me of being selfish and not wanting to share the spotlight. If I am wrong please tell me and I will try to make my fiance see it that way. Right now I am so heart sick I'm ready to call off the wedding and elope. — CONFUSED GIRL

Dear Girl: A bride should not have to share the spotlight with anyone. Discuss this problem with your clergyman and ask him to speak to your mother. If your mother wants to "remarry" your father for sentimental reasons, she should do it on her own time and not horn in on your day.

Dear Ann Landers: I lost my husband two years ago and have been seeing a very interesting man who joined the firm where I am a private secretary. Aaron is excellent company, shares my interests and we are of the same religion. He never married and seems to enjoy my two teenage children a great deal. Aaron has asked me to marry him but something is holding me back.

He seems to be terribly hung up on superstition. He has turned around in the middle of the block to prevent a black cat from crossing his path. He will walk across a street to avoid stepping under a ladder. When he drops the salt and pepper shaker he always tosses a few grains over his left shoulder. Recently he passed up a choice apartment because it was on the 13th floor.

Last night we were walking down the street and Aaron was careful not to step on a crack because it would "break his mother's back." His mother died five years ago.

Do you think this indicates an unstable mind or is it just ignorance? — GERALDINE OF BILLINGS

Dear Geraldine: Superstition bears no relation to stability or intelligence. From your description he sounds like a promising prospect. Knock on wood.

School Librarians Attend Workshop At Salmon Arm

School librarians from Osoyoos to Williams Lake travelled to Salmon Arm last Friday and Saturday, May 24 and 25 for their 20th annual spring workshop.

The main speaker this year was Miss Florence Riendeau from Watrous, Sask. Miss Riendeau is the school librarian for Saskatchewan's Second Demonstration Library. The first was in Yorkton last year. Seven educational organizations sponsor these library demonstration projects in Saskatchewan.

The library in Watrous comprises 2,500 square feet and includes a fully carpeted reading room with a primary area, a combined audio-visual and library workroom and a teachers' lesson preparation and storage area. There's also a library classroom. Electrical outlets in the reading room floor permit listening and viewing at the reading room tables. This library serves 400 Grade 1-8 students. It is open to visitors every Tuesday and Thursday to watch it in operation. Miss Riendeau will be bringing slides of this modern library to the workshop.

The Okanagan Valley School Librarians looked forward to hearing Miss Riendeau's experiences in a school library that is operating as a resource centre for a school following modern trends in school organization.

'Corrective Action' Urged For Economic Set-Up

PARIS, Ont. (CP) — Robert Stanfield wound up the first leg of an Ontario campaign tour here Tuesday night with a condemnation of government economic "mismanagement" and a warning that severe corrective action is needed.

The Conservative leader has made clear that he will keep on stressing the state of the economy as the prime issue in the campaign for the June 25 general election.

At a packed rally in a fair-grounds hall here—nearly 100 in the crowd of more than 400 were standing—Mr. Stanfield charged the government with careless, erratic, disinterested and "madcap" management of the economy.

Later, in what is becoming a regular feature of his campaign, he handled stiff questions on subjects ranging from Vietnam to the Massey-Ferguson plant in nearby Brantford.

On Vietnam, a man asked whether Mr. Stanfield thought Canada should stop shipping materials to the United States that would be used "to harass the people of Vietnam."

Mr. Stanfield said he did not think such a move would do any good. It would wipe out any chance Canada had to help end the war and would "destroy our relations with the United States for many years to come."

'NOT AN AGGRESSOR'

"While I am most anxious that the war be ended, I am certainly not prepared for a minute to treat the United States as an enemy aggressor."

On the Brantford plant, another questioner asked what a Conservative government would do if Massey-Ferguson carried out a threat to move out because of labor demands.

Mr. Stanfield said he would want to create a climate of industrial expansion and that he fervently hopes the plant will not leave. But he added:

"I frankly don't know of any way we could effectively compel a corporation to stay in any particular area or in Canada."

In his speech, Mr. Stanfield said Liberal handling of the economy has undermined Canada and confidence in Canada.

Living costs had gone up 11 per cent in less than three years. Interest rates had been pushed up beyond the capacity of Canadians.

Inflation had seriously cut the economic growth rate, with resulting unemployment. The government had spent recklessly and imposed back-breaking taxes to pay for it, with the worst punishment falling on those who could least afford it.

And it had "swamped" the money markets to pay its bills, forcing up interest rates. Cash reserves had dwindled and last week the government had been forced to borrow $262,500,000 abroad.

Mr. Stanfield said that if he is elected, he will co-operate with the provinces to integrate revenue and expenditure programs as much as possible.

But the main responsibility was federal, and the approach of a new government would have to be "decisive and for a while, severe."

Mr. Stanfield spent Monday and Tuesday touring through Southern Ontario from Sarnia to Brantford, with stress on small rallies and direct contact with the voters.

After television taping sessions in Toronto today he will go on to Barrie and Wingham Thursday, and to Sault Ste. Marie and the Lakehead Friday.

George Elliot Spirit Shows at Track Meet

By SHARON MOTZ

Once again the tremendous George Elliot spirit was displayed as our track team performed valiantly in the zone track meet in Kelowna.

Every long, hard practice including strenuous warmups; re-doing timed runs; and trying the next height, paid off as each member of the team fought with all he had to obtain first place prizes, break old records and achieve a good total score.

We are very proud of our track team and congratulate all the members on their efforts. A very important track ingredient is Mr. Jarvis, who sacrificed many hours and pushed a little harder to get his team up to its present height.

We thank him and D. Holland, M. Lund and S. Swarchuck, who directed the track work. To those tracksters who will be entering the Valley track meet in Kelowna, June 1, we send our sincere wishes that your diligent efforts may be justly rewarded. Our support and best wishes follow Mr. Jarvis and the track team as they participate in all track meets during the summer.

Our school felt it was a real privilege to host the Royal Canadian Engineers Band in our gymnasium May 26. On students' council, under the direction of president Ross Kobayashi, is working hard in preparation for the annual election of next year's officers.

As the close of the school year draws nearer, so does the deadline for the printing of our school annual. As a result, overtime workshops are being held and everyone in the annual club is working even more diligently. The Annual Club appreciates the assistance Mr. Blaskovich is giving in this work. A great amount is being accomplished and we are certain this year's annual will be worthy of the work and effort put into it.

France Soothes Farmers And Agrees On ECM Policy

BRUSSELS (AP) — France today managed to soothe its farmers, complete the Common Market farm policy and guarantee fulfillment of Kennedy Round commitments.

After a marathon all-night session, the six member states of the European Economic Community agreed on a Common policy for dairy products and beef. It completes their single farm policy, which is to take effect July 1, together with a free flow of industrial goods among the six.

The compromise agreement was a victory for France's agriculture minister, Edgar Faure, who came to Brussels under pressure from French farmers, the only big social group not yet in revolt.

Faure told reporters that France would not question implementing the custom union for industrial goods. She had threatened to do so failing a farm agreement. Faure added France would not question either further duty-cutting in the Kennedy Round of trade talks.

He indicated that France would stand by her earlier pledge for speeding up duty cuts in the Kennedy Round. Earlier Faure had told his colleagues that France would go through with lowering duties on imports, "though there might be a certain delay due to technical circumstances."

France's Common Market partners are anxiously watching the French upheaval, fearing that a deterioration of the French economy might boom-ang on theirs, as economic integration links them closer every day.

The agreement on a unified dairy policy should take some steam out of growing butter surpluses, but there were no tight guarantees, delegates said.

Spectre Of Tighter Money Now Fully-Fleshed In U.S.

NEW YORK (AP) — The spectre of tighter money in the United States became more fully-fleshed last week.

Some interest rates went up in a continuing spiral and important elements of the financial world predicted further rises unless there is an income tax increase.

And, these sources said, there is a possibility that if the tightening vise on the amount of money available for borrowing cases further there could be a slowdown in business expansion and a deterioration in the stock market.

Yields on the U.S. Treasury Department's newest issues of short-term bills climbed sharply at this week's auction with the average return to investors on the 13-week issue going to a record 5.847 per cent from 5.75 per cent of the previous sale. The previous high was 5.586 per cent on Sept. 19, 1966.

The yield on the companion issue of 26-week bills rose to 5.995 per cent from 5.75 per cent of the previous sale and was the highest since the record 6.039 per cent also on Sept. 19, 1966.

Financial sources said a big factor in the increase is that banks are liquidating bills due to Federal Reserve credit tightening and to rising rates in other sectors of the money market.

A. A. Randall, chairman of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp., said at an American Bankers Association International monetary conference that unless the tax increase appears assured in a reasonable time, authorities will have to raise at least some interest rate ceilings by July.

BITTER BASEBALL

It Didn't Matter After The First

By ED SCHUYLER Jr.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Sonny Siebert and Bill Rohr of Cleveland Indians pitched seven hitless innings against Minnesota Twins, but their combined effort was sort of like locking the barn after the horse escaped.

Siebert and Rohr didn't yield a hit from the second through the eighth innings Tuesday night at Minnesota, but the Twins touched Siebert for three in the first when they scored all of their runs in a 3-1 victory.

In other American League action, Oakland Athletics edged Boston Red Sox 3-1, Detroit Tigers topped California Angels 4-1 and Baltimore Orioles nipped Chicago White Sox 2-1 in 10 innings at Milwaukee. The Washington at New York game was rained out.

Minnesota got its first four batters on base against Siebert in the first. John Roseboro doubled and scored on Rod Carew's single. After Harmon Killebrew walked, Tony Oliva doubled in Carew and Killebrew scored on Rich Reese's sacrifice fly.

Siebert then stopped the Twins until the seventh when Rohr took over to complete the job.

Cleveland scored in the top of the first on Lee Maye's single, a fielder's choice and Tony Horton's double. Maye and Horton each got three of the seven hits off Jim Perry, who was bailed out of an eighth-inning jam by Al Worthington. It was Worthington's 10th save of the season.

Jim Lomberg, the Cy Young award winner who broke a leg in a skiing accident, made his first appearance of the season in Boston's losing effort against Oakland.

The big Red Sox right-hander, reactivated last weekend, came in with two men on and one out in the sixth and got out of the jam. He also pitched the seventh, yielding one hit and no runs.

Ken Harrelson homered for Boston in the second, but Oakland came back with two runs on Jim Pagliaroni's blast in the bottom of the inning. It was the first homer with a man on base at the Oakland Coliseum this season.

The Athletics also scored in the sixth on two walks and Joe Rudi's double.

SCORE ON HOMER

Detroit broke loose for four runs against California's George Brunet in the first inning. Bill Freehan doubled in the first two runs and then scored on Willie Horton's homer.

Guisti Sabotages Top Job With Antics Of One Pitch

By HAL BOCK

Associated Press Sports Writer

Jim Maloney made the baseball do tricks and Gaylord Perry turned in some sleight of hand too. But the antics one of Dave Guisti's pitches went through topped them all.

Guisti sabotaged an otherwise strong job with a costly error that allowed one run to score and set up another in Atlanta Braves' 3-1 victory over Houston Astros Tuesday night.

Cincinnati Reds' Maloney hurled a sharp one-hitter, blanking Los Angeles Dodgers 7-0 and Perry of San Francisco Giants finished with a two-hitter and a 3-1 victory over St. Louis Cardinals.

The only other National League games scheduled—New York at Pittsburgh and Chicago at Philadelphia—were rained out.

PITCH COVERS PARK

Houston was leading Atlanta 1-0 in the fourth inning when Sonny Jackson and Hank Aaron opened with singles. Then Guisti delivered a pitch to Joe Torre that was destined to make the rounds of the ball park before it was through.

Torre lined it for a base hit to left, scoring Jackson. Aaron raced for third base and Jim Wynn, Houston's left fielder, threw to Bob Aspromonte, the Astros' third baseman.

But the throw sailed past Aspromonte and as Aaron pulled in safely, Torre broke for second. Guisti, backing up third base, grabbed Wynn's throw and fired it past second as Aaron scored and Torre advanced to third. Deron Johnson's sacrifice fly brought the third run of the inning across.

That was plenty for Pat Jarvis, who pitched a four-hitter and retired 18 Astros in a row over one stretch.

Maloney, who carried a 4.50 earned run average into the game against the Dodgers, struck out 10 and permitted only a fifth inning single by Zoilo Versalles. The Reds, meanwhile, rapped 13 hits—12 of them by the first four batters in the order.

Leadoff man Pete Rose had four of the hits and raised his league leading batting average from .351 to .368. Tommy Helms and Alex Johnson had three hits each with Johnson driving in four runs and Helms two. Vada Pinson also had two hits and one RBI.

LINDGREN CRACKS AMERICAN RECORD

Washington State's Gerry Lindgren (left) gets the congratulations of world record holder Ron Clarke of Australia after cracking the American record for 5,000 meters, in the California Relays at Modesto, Calif., recently. Lindgren's 13:33.8 eclipsed his own American mark of 13:38.0, but was behind Clarke's world mark of 13:13.6. Clarke was second in 13:35.8.

Rutland Defeats Royals; Now Tied For Top Spot

Rutland Rovers moved into a tie for first place in the Kelowna and District Senior B Softball League Tuesday by defeating Royal Anne Royals 2-1 at Kings Stadium.

Arnie Rath, the hard-hitting Rutland pitcher, worked himself out of jams in the third and fourth innings to record the victory and give the Rovers their sixth win of the year.

They now have the same record as the Royals, six wins and three losses.

Rath completely overwhelmed the Royals, allowing only three hits in seven innings. The one run he yielded came via an error by shortstop Don Schneider. Schneider, usually one of the best fielding men at his position in the league, suffered through a total of four errors in the game.

The only run scored off Rath came in the fourth inning by Norbert Korthals. Korthals opened the inning with a single, moved to second on a sacrifice by Nick Bulach, then scored on Schneider's error.

For Rutland, most of the fireworks and all of the scoring came from first-baseman Don Kroschinsky. He scored both Rutland runs and came through with the only extra-bases hit of the game.

He led off the third inning with a double, moved to third on a passed ball, then scored on a sacrifice by Barry Forsythe.

Kroschinsky scored his second run in the fifth inning after drawing a walk. He moved around the bags on an error by Bulach, then scored on a single by Jack Yamaoka.

Bunny Combrés, undefeated going into the game, was the losing pitcher. He allowed just three hits and struck out four.

Two games are scheduled to follow with the Royals playing in Vernon and the Willow Inn Willows hosting the Kelowna Carlings at Kings Stadium. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

Standings:

Two Baseball Leagues To Take Separate Paths

CHICAGO (AP) — The American and National leagues of baseball, bitter rivals on and off the field for nearly seven decades, have fought their way into separate systems of operation.

The American Tuesday approved a two-division league and the National remained a one-division league of 12 teams, including newcomers Montreal and San Diego.

Both leagues ended their meetings Tuesday.

The AL next year will have an Eastern Division represented by Boston, New York, Baltimore, Washington, Cleveland and Detroit. The Western Division will be made up of Chicago, Minnesota, Kansas City, Oakland, Seattle and California. They will play a 156-game schedule with the winners of each division meeting in a best-of-five playoff to determine the World Series representative.

Divisional teams will meet each other 18 times with an even home-and-road breakdown and then will face members of the other division 11 times a year with a 6-5 home-and-road breakdown. The latter will be reversed to 5-6 every other year to balance home and road games.

LEAGUE IN HARMONY

AL president Joe Cronin said his league was in complete harmony on the divisional breakdown.

NL president Warren Giles said there was only slight sentiment for divisional play with his league and it was immediately "shot down."

The NL's 1969 schedule was discussed with the possibilities of either 162 games a season or

165. Most owners seemed to favor the 162-game slate.

The league also announced plans for the stocking of the new expansion clubs with each team submitting its list of players under control by Oct. 1, except for the World Series team which will withhold its list of 15 untouchables until the day after the Series.

The expansion clubs will receive the lists Oct. 10 and the expansion draft will be held Oct. 15 in Montreal on the readily accepted invitation of Mayor Jean Drapeau.

Soccer Frenzy Grips Britain

LONDON (AP) — Manchester United carried a national dream into the European Cup final against Benfica of Portugal today while England was gripped by a soccer frenzy unequalled since it won the world championship two years ago.

The glamor match of the year will be watched by a sellout crowd of 100,000 at London's Wembley Stadium and followed on television throughout the continent.

Manager Matt Busby's Manchester boys took the field as favorites to grab the European national champions' title in the 13th final since Real Madrid of Spain first won it in 1956.

A lot of United's support was pure emotion. Busby, one of the most popular men in the game, has struggled toward this ambition ever since he began slowly rebuilding the great team that was nearly wiped out in the Munich air crash 10 years ago.

The whole British nation was keyed up to see that dream come true—and this time Busby thinks United will do it.

"I have the feeling that at long last this is our year to win the European Cup," Busby said. "I feel that our players smell success."

But Mario Coloma, Benfica's captain, said he regards the game as "a near certainty for us."

"Our team is in its best shape and we're getting ready to strike a mortal blow to Manchester's hopes. I am absolutely confident of Benfica's victory, even allowing that Manchester will be playing at home."

ALJE REPORTS

Age Change Irks League

By ALJE KAMMINGA

ONCE AN OUTLAW, always an outlaw. So goes the story of the Western Canada Junior Hockey League, now balking at a change in the age of players eligible for junior hockey.

A report from Ed Simon of Canadian Press: A dispute over 12 months of eligibility for juniors threatens to push Western Canada's top junior league into independent operation for the second time in three years.

THE NINE-TEAM Western Canada Junior Hockey League threw down the gauntlet Tuesday with an announcement that its governors have agreed unanimously to set the junior age limit at 20.

In a meeting in Windsor, Ont., last week, the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, governing body of the sport, authorized an age limit of 19.

Prior to last week's meeting, the CAHA recognized as juniors players who were under 20 on May 31 of the year following the start of a season. The new regulation moves up the deadline five months to Dec. 31 of the same year. The WCJHL moves seven months in the opposite direction to Dec. 31 of the year following.

AT THE SAME TIME, the WCJHL announced that it will offer four-year scholarships to players of 18 or younger at universities and vocational schools. Players studying continuously throughout the four years would retain junior eligibility for the duration of their courses.

Bill Hunter, owner of Edmonton Oil Kings and chairman of the WCJHL board of governors, told a news conference the league will make no move to declare its independence, as many of the same clubs did in 1966 in another dispute with the CAHA.

But Gordon Juckes, CAHA executive director, said in Winnipeg adoption by the WCJHL of its higher age limit would automatically force the league out of organized hockey.

"OBVIOUSLY, ANYONE who doesn't want to abide by the rules can't be a member of the CAHA and won't be able to participate in any of our programs, such as the Memorial Cup," Juckes said.

"They've relegated the Memorial Cup to nothing," Hunter said, adding that the WCJHL will work to organize a championship final between its own winner and an eastern representative.

Hunter said enforcement of the CAHA age limit would reduce the WCJHL to "an all-star juvenile league" and would have cost its clubs 50 per cent of their gate receipts.

HE ADDED THAT loss of the extra year of eligibility would have opened WCJHL clubs to widespread raiding by United States colleges offering hockey scholarships.

"We have a moral responsibility to our fans and players to fulfill our commitments," Hunter said the WCJHL will abide by the terms of its one-year contract with the National Hockey League, which gives the professional organization the right to draft WCJHL players. The league would continue to encourage exceptional players to accept NHL offers while still of junior age.

BESIDES EDMONTON, the WCJHL has clubs in Saskatoon, Swift Current, Estevan and Weyburn, Sask., Winnipeg, Brandon and Flin Flon, Man., and Calgary.

The same clubs, with the exception of the three Manitoba entries and with the addition of Regina, played outside CAHA jurisdiction as the Canadian Major Junior Hockey League in 1967-68. The CAHA unsuccessfully fought CAHA approval of a proposal to draft players from other junior leagues.

REMEMBER WHEN . . . Vancouver's Jimmy McLarnin won the world welterweight boxing championship 34 years ago today—in 1934—knocking out Young Corbett III in two minutes 37 seconds of the first round of a bout at Los Angeles, scheduled to go 10.

West Germany Takes Step To Being Sovereign Nation

BONN (AP) — West Germany has passed on of the last milestones in its change from an occupied nation to one fully sovereign when Britain, the United States and France announced they would yield the last of their key occupation rights.

The three occupying nations are ready to give up their exclusive rights to tap German telephones, open the mail and use troops to quell civil disorders beyond police control.

Bills giving the federal government these powers to act during states of emergency are due for passage by the lower house of Parliament Thursday. Action by the upper house and the federal president is considered a formality, and the laws probably will be in effect next month.

Demonstrations against the emergency laws continued, however. Leftists fought strenuously to provisions for curbs on individual liberties, even in exceptional circumstances. Frankfurt students occupied their classrooms, and the university suspended classes until June 1.

The status of West Berlin is not affected by the legislation. It remains occupied territory, with Britain, the U.S. and France having final control officially.

MOSCOW (Reuters) — The Kremlin today warned that adoption of emergency power laws in West Germany could have serious consequences for peace in Europe.

The warning came in a strongly worded statement by the official Tass news agency one day before the laws, which give the Bonn government far-reaching powers in case of emergency, come before the Bundestag (lower house) in Bonn for final approval.

Opening lead—two of clubs. Accurate card reading is the very backbone of good play, but this principle is generally more honored in the breach than in its observance.

For example, take this hand where East wins the club lead with the ace, and continues with the ace, which declarer ruffs.

South draws two rounds of trumps and leads the king of hearts, won by West with the ace. West returns a heart and declarer cashes both high hearts, after which he leads the ace and another diamond in the hope of finding West with the doubleton king or queen of diamonds.

If that were the case, West would have to concede a ruff and discard after winning the second diamond and South would make the contract.

Unfortunately, the cards are not divided as South hopes, and East cashes the K-Q of diamonds to defeat four spades one trick.

The fact is that South should make the contract if the defense proceeds as described. He should realize from the early plays that West cannot have the ace of hearts, the jack of spades and four clubs to the queen, as well as the king or queen of diamonds, or he would surely have bid something over a spade, instead of passing.

It follows that East has the K-Q of diamonds and that the projected endplay is bound to fail.

Once he makes the correct determination, South should undertake a different type of endplay. After winning the third round of hearts in dummy, he should lead the three of diamonds, not the ace. This play fixes East's wagon behind repair.

Declarer's calculation that East must have the K-Q of diamonds is likewise available to West. He can deduce that East must hold the K-Q of diamonds for the contract to be defeated, and he should therefore return a diamond, not a heart, upon taking his ace of hearts. This nips the endplay in the bud and South must go down one.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

FOR TOMORROW
 Planetary aspects, somewhat restrictive, call for care in all matters on Thursday. You may experience a tendency to scatter energies, to go off on tangents not pertinent to your best interests. Curb such inclinations and avoid the carelessness that could lead to needless errors.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY
 If tomorrow is your birthday, your horoscope promises a fine year where personal relationships are concerned. If you are careful to avoid friction in late October and late December, you should find domestic and social interests exceptionally congenial for the greater part of the year, and there is also indication of some unusual and heart-warming experiences along romantic lines in June, September and the latter half of December of this year; also, in February and/or May of next.

Best periods for travel: August, September, late December and throughout January, April and May.

Even though your financial status may not change much between now and the end of December, it would be well to keep in mind that for you, and all other Geminians, stars have decreed that the last half of 1968 is a time in which to plan for the future—and not for going out on the proverbial limb in hope of making immediate gains. The months of September and October will be ideal for carrying out feasible ideas and launching programs for fiscal expansion, and such ideas and plans should cover a range of at least two years. If executed smartly, projects thus conceived should show first results within the first three months of 1969.

It will be important, however, that you shun speculation, limit expenditures and make no long-term financial commitments during September, November or December, or you will preclude gains star-promised later. Best periods for job advancement: July, late September, the last two weeks in October, late December, next February and/or May.

A child born on this day will be endowed with a warm and outgoing personality, a flair for the dramatic and unusual literary talents.

Socreds May Have 'Oversold' Says Bonner

Robert Bonner, the attorney-general whose retirement from the cabinet was announced Monday, says British Columbia's Social Credit government may have oversold its accomplishments. "Now there is a feeling there is no limit to what can be done. Now there is a failure to relate our expectations with our capacities. We have deluded ourselves into believing there is some sort of magic in government financing," Mr. Bonner, who is leaving the cabinet to become a vice-president of MacMillan Bloedel Ltd., made the comments in an interview.

"Danny the Red" with his hair dyed black, has slipped back into France from West Germany openly challenging the de Gaulle government to stop his student-rousing agitation. Daniel Cohn-Bendit, 23, had boasted in West Germany after his ouster that he would be back in Paris to resume his nose-thumbing tactics against the government. He has been blamed for much of the turmoil that has engulfed France since his student uprisings were followed by upheavals and violence among laborers and farmers.

Premier Robarts told the Ontario legislature Tuesday he had "no intention" of setting up an all-party committee to investigate allegations that prisoners at Guelph Reformatory were beaten with wooden clubs as punishment for participating in a "sit-in" May 9. The committee study was proposed by Dr. Morton Shulman (NDP-Toronto High Park) who referred to allegations in a Toronto Star article. Mr. Robarts said Allan Grossman, Reform Institutions Minister, has already made a statement to the house on the demonstration and would be asked to review the situation "to be certain that certain things set out in the article did not in fact happen."

Ralph Scholten was acquitted in Prince George Tuesday on a charge of criminal negligence in the death of his two children, Tina Rae, 9, and Kelly Donald, 6, and their friend, Dwight Ziegler, 10. The youngsters were killed last New Year's Eve while riding an overturned car hood being towed behind their father's pickup truck and went underneath it.

Colored sidewalks have been proposed by Mayor Frank Ney of Nanaimo. The mayor said it would brighten Nanaimo to have colored sidewalks which could be chosen by neighbors involved in a 10-mile improvement project.

William Richard Turcotte, 18, and Gary Donald Parkinson, 21, both of Prince Rupert, Tuesday were charged in Vancouver with trafficking in methedrine and LSD. Police said they seized 30 methedrine and 30 LSD tablets from the men and they found a further 36 tablets of drugs in a Vancouver hotel room.

Mayor Stephen Juba of Winnipeg said Tuesday he has asked for a court ruling on the legality of his proposed city-operated draw. Mayor Juba described his idea as a "loan with a prize," not a lottery. He proposes to sell $10, three-year city bonds and the bond-holders would be eligible in 36 monthly draws for cash prizes of between $10,000 and $20,000. After three years the $10 would be repaid without interest.

The four living members of the famous Dionne quintuplets Tuesday celebrate in Montreal their 34th birthday privately. They did not have any special plans for celebrating together this year.

Vian Of The Cossack Dies Ending Royal Navy Chapter

LONDON (CP) — Admiral of the Fleet Sir Philip Vian, one of Britain's most daring sailors who commanded both Canadian and British ships, has died of a heart attack. He was 74.

Long known as Vian of the Cossack, he gained fame early in the Second World War when a boarding party from his destroyer rushed the decks of a German prison ship and liberated 299 British merchant seamen.

In a half-hour, hand-to-hand battle, the Cossack men killed several Germans. After freeing the prisoners, they pulled away to join other British ships outside the Norwegian fjord where the German ship had taken refuge.

Vian also gained fame with his command of a British destroyer force which sunk the German battle ship Bismarck in 1941.

When the European invasion began in 1944, Vian was named commander of a task force composed largely of Canadian and British ships which played a leading role in the naval assault.

Along with his military honors, Vian was made a knight commander of the British Empire in 1942, a companion of the Order of the Bath in 1944 and a Knight Grand Cross of the Bath in 1952.

In post-war years, Vian took an active interest in banking and became a director of the Midland bank. In latter years, he suffered from heart trouble, but remained active on his Berkshire farm near Newbury, about 50 miles west of here, where he died.

Vian is survived by his wife, Marjorie, and two daughters. The funeral and cremation Thursday will be private.
